"HAI makes changing lighting, temperature, and security as easy as changing channels!"

HAI's new Home Control for Windows Media Center is software for Windows Media Centers that allow you to control all of your HAI Omni features from the comfort of an easy chair using a single Media Center remote. It provides an affordable and complete home control system with a familiar and user friendly interface by:

- allowing control of HAI Omni features from the comfort of an easy chair on a TV.
- providing UL-listed security, lighting control, temperature control, access to all media, including family photos, music, video, email, and Internet access from a single handheld remote
- all at a fraction of the cost previously available!

Control entertainment, temperatures, security and lighting—all with a single TV remote!

A Windows Media Center coordinates music, television, and home photography for an enjoyable home entertainment experience. HAI's Home Control coordinates security, temperature, and lighting for comfort, convenience and safety. Together, you get incredible performance in a complete home automation system at a very reasonable price.

A Windows Media Center is an easy-to-use integrated digital entertainment center. It can play, pause and rewind live TV, play DVDs and CDs, store your digital music, videos and photos, browse the Internet, e-mail and run Windows XP applications.

With HAI Home Control, the Windows Media Center presents your HAI system's features, too. You get menus for lighting control, security, temperature control, macros, the event log and more. So you can settle in for a great movie with the lights, temperature and security adjusted exactly as you please.

Reliability

HAI's Home Control for WMC is built on:

- HAI's award winning Omni family of integrated security and home automation controllers
- HAI's Web-Link software, the first Internet home access and control product on the market.
- Microsoft's Windows XP Professional Media Center Edition software.

Convenience So easy to install! Just load HAI's Home Control for WMC into the Windows Media Center System. A settings wizard will guide you through the steps to ensure proper connection and operation. No programming required. There are also several diagnostic modes that allow you easily test and troubleshoot possible problems.

Expandability Expand the capabilities of HAI's Home Control for WMC by adding the award winning Web-Link II software for Internet access and control of security, lighting, and temperatures. Internet video surveillance and recording, as well as the ability to receive emails based on programmed events (i.e. the kids have arrived home from school, or a delivery package has arrived) is also available with Web-Link II. **

* HAI Home Control for WMC requires a professionally installed HAI Omni controller.

**HAI Web-Link II software may be purchased separately or bundled with HAI Home Control for WMC software. Additional equipment and cameras may be required.
